The Spectators

AMONG THE spectators at a "practice" fire at 285 Los Banos Avenue, Daly City, Thursday morning was off-duty Daly City firefighter Bill Shore, holding his two and a half-year-old daughter, Karen, by the hand. An unidentified fireman also watches the fire, which consumed a vacant house scheduled to be demolished to make way for freeway construction. Firemen carefully controlled the flames, which ultimately leveled the building. (Post-Times Photo)

UNRUH BONUS MONEY AT STAKE

The High Cost of Haggling

The long hassle over school unification in the North County could cost the five school districts involved approximately $250,000 in bonus money as a result of the recently passed Unruh Unification Bill.

Ironically, the new bill also eliminates one of the primary reasons for the long hassle—the augmented committee provision, which gives the school district boards a vote in unification.

It has been the vociferous opposition of the elementary school districts to the county's unification plan that has delayed action, observers point out.

Al Glantz, deputy secretary of the county committee, said the Unruh Bill will give districts that are unified or that have voted for unification before next February 1 a bonus in state aid that would amount to approximately a quarter of a million dollars in the North County.

Glantz said the county committee, which has the responsibility for submitting a master plan for unification throughout the county by September 1, began its studies first in the North County.

Continual haggling, however, has put the area in the position of being the last to be resolved, he said, and unless things "dovetail very closely," the vote may not be taken in time to meet the deadline for the bonus.

The four elementary school districts of Bayshore, Brisbane, Jefferson and Laguna Salada and the Jefferson High School Board will hold another meeting June 18 to take a tentative vote on a plan to split the high school district into two separate unified districts.

One unified district would include the elementary districts of Jefferson, Bayshore and Brisbane and the northern half of the high school district. The other district would be made up of the Laguna Salada district and the southern half of the high school district.

Two public hearings would be scheduled about a month after the tentative vote with the required final vote on the plan taken immediately afterward.

Glantz said that the plan would go to the State Board of Education and then to the voters. If a positive vote for the unification plan was not received by February 1, the districts would lose the bonus.

The Unruh Bill, which takes effect in August, eliminates the augmented committee and with it the voting power of the school districts involved.

Conceivably, then, if the

Hickey Plan Is Delayed

SPECIAL MEET SET

S.S.F. Council Hears Protest

By RON BATES

San Mateo County's plan to extend Hickey Boulevard as a cross-county lateral ran into a roadblock Monday night at the South San Francisco City Council meeting.

A delegation of homeowners appeared at the meeting to plea for more time and more facts about the road to Pacifica, which would demolish seven homes and a playground in the West Winston Manor area.

The council held the second hearing on an ordinance declaring a portion of Hickey Boulevard extension a part of the county highway system.

The arguments of several citizens who got up to speak were convincing enough that the council decided to arrange a special meeting with the homeowners and County Engineer Don Wilson.

John C. Siacotos, president of the West Winston Manor Home Owners' Association, presented a two-page resolution passed by the association's board of directors.

The resolution charged that the proposed highway would isolate a considerable number of homes from the rest of the neighborhood.

Siacotos said the highway would "divide and blight" the neighborhood, remove homes from the tax rolls and reduce the value of others.

He pointed out that "a dangerous situation" for children would be created during construction.

Siacotos urged the council to study further the possibility of making Collins Avenue, a road farther north, the cross-county lateral.

Mayor Patrick Ahern said he had asked Wilson about the suggested Collins route.

Wilson had replied by letter, saying that on the basis of a study made in 1960, the State Division of Highways drew up final plans for the Junipero Serra Freeway at its intersection with the Hickey Boulevard Extension.

"Any alteration to our plans at this time would certainly cause

B'nai Israel Bids Farewell to Temple

The congregation of B'nai Israel, the oldest Jewish congregation in San Mateo County, bid a nostalgic farewell Sunday to the temple that had served its needs for the past 56 years.

In a solemn ceremony, some 150 members of the conservative congregation met outside the temple at 67 Los Banos Avenue while Rabbi Solomon A. Shore directed the removal of the three holy scrolls of the Torah.

The temple will be demolished to make way for a freeway feeder.

The congregation will meet in the Daly City Council chambers until its new synagogue at 1575 Annie Street in Colma is finished.

PACIFICA COUNCIL

Outfall Repair Action Held Up

Final acceptance of plans and specifications for repair of the collapsed Sharp Park outfall line was held up by the Pacifica City Council last week.

After a brief personnel session, councilmen indicated they wanted to investigate a report that work done by engineer-diver Edgar Griswold for the North San Mateo County Sanitation District may have been in error.

Griswold submitted the plans for repair of the Pacifica line after he undertook a study of the collapse.

The North San Mateo County Sanitation District, which handles the sewage for the Daly City-Broadmoor area, recently spent $20,000 for additional anchorage for its $350,000 Thornton Beach outfall line, completed last year.

The additional expenditure was authorized by the directors after Brown and Caldwell Consulting Engineers reported that the line had not embedded itself in sand as originally intended.

The engineers had designed the line on the basis of a report by Griswold that "the bottom of the ocean was composed of loose sand along the entire length surveyed."

A subsequent investigation, postponed several times by bad weather, after the outfall line was laid, revealed that the outer 600 feet of line is resting on a hard bottom contrary to Griswold's report, and receives no lateral support from sand.

Richard Aberley, project engineer for Brown and Caldwell, pointed out the inspection of the outfall line had been planned well in advance of the Sharp Park outfall line collapse.

In the report to the sanitation district, Aberley noted that the failures of both the Sharp Park outfall this year and the Half Moon Bay outfall line last year have pointed up "the vulnerability of offshore pipelines having inadequate anchorage."

Griswold had been retained by the Pacifica Council to investigate exactly what caused the Sharp Park line to collapse. His investigations revealed "an error in design."

Griswold said the line should have been designed to be more flexible to withstand turbulent currents found along the coast line.

He also said the line should have been extended further into the ocean to go beyond a sand

Gift Proposal Turned Down By Trustees

By PHYLLIS CLEMENTS

A policy governing the purchase of school equipment and supplies was re-affirmed by trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District Monday night when a gift from the student body of Colma Intermediate school was presented to the board for acceptance.

The gift was an offer to pay for half the cost of drapes and valences for the front of a new auditorium stage.

The officer was included with the offer of gifts from four other schools: Vista Mar, Thomas Edison, Christopher Columbus, and Woodrow Wilson.

Board Chairman Thomas Noonan remarked:

"One of these is not a gift — it's a proposition. You pay half and we'll pay half."

Trustee O. Wayne Douglas asked: "Hasn't our policy been that if something was necessary and desirable in a school, we went ahead and purchased it?" He added:

"If we do this, maybe the youngsters at Colma would like

D. C. Begins Hearings on Zoning Law

The Daly City Planning Commission began hearings last week on a proposed new zoning ordinance for the city.

Representatives of three major developers and only one resident were present to voice opinions on the new ordinance, which has been almost a year and a half in drafting.

Most of the discussion concerned a section dealing with apartment houses.

E. V. Schulhauser of the Suburban Realty Company, developers of Serramonte, suggested that the height for multiple family dwellings be increased to 40 feet from the present 36 feet and that the lot area per dwell-

Finalists Are Measle-less In D.C.; Contest Goes On

Officials of the Miss Daly City contest were breathing a bit easier this week. No more of the five finalists have come down with the measles.

Cathy Herleikson, 17, of 23 Crestline Avenue, one of the five, threw a scare into contest officials when she came down with the measles the morning after the preliminaries at Westmoor High School. She is now back in school.

Miss Herleikson and the other four finalists — Susann Bernard, 16, of Wildwood Avenue; Judy Liss, 19, of 15 Ashland Drive; Rice Philips, 17, of 1048 South Mayfair Avenue, and Karen Soltau, 16, of 750 Hanover Street—will compete in the contest finals next Wednesday at the Elks' Club in South San Francisco.

Tickets for the dinner and beauty pageant are available at the Chamber of Commerce Office at 6454 Mission Street or at the office of The Post at 30 Park Plaza Drive.

CRACKDOWN ORDERED

Coast Asks New House Move Law

A strict clampdown on the moving of buildings about the city was ordered by Pacifica city councilmen last week after they examined a series of photographs of homes that have been moved from one location to another.

The situation became more critical recently when numerous buildings were displaced by freeway construction and moved to other locations in the city.

Councilmen instructed City Attorney Conrad Reisch to prepare a new house moving ordinance that would include the following provisions:

That a permit be obtained from the Planning Commission for all buildings to be moved.

That the building inspector be allowed to grant an additional 45 days to the 90-day period in which a building must now be moved.

Three new commissioners were named by councilmen.

Edwin J. O'Connell, a geological engineer with the Western Knapp Engineering Company and a resident of 1395 Crespi Drive, was named to the Planning Commission to replace James Fox, who was elected to the City Council.

O'Connell, a resident of the city six years, is a graduate of the Montana School of Mines and has been active in the Linda Mar Highlands Improvement Club and the P-TA.

Mrs. Mary F. Beauvais of 811 Linda Mar Boulevard, a Red Cross and Scout leader, was named to the Park, Beach and Recreation Commission to replace Mrs. Grace McCarthy, also elected to the council.

Mrs. Margaret E. McCoy, of 64 Canyon Drive in the Sharp Park area, was named to the Welfare Referral Committee.

A long time civic leader, Mrs. McCoy in 1956 was awarded the Ed Farrell award as the outstanding citizen of the year by the Lions Club. She has been active in Girl Scout and Rainbow Girl work.

Councilmen reversed a Planning Commission decision when they voted unanimously to rezone two acres north of the Linda Mar School, owned by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, to a duplex zone.

STUDY COMPLETED

Bus Commmittee Asks Extension Of Three Routes

Extension of San Francisco's bus system into Daly City moved a step closer to a final decision last week after a meeting of the Daly City Council's transportation committee.

A proposal for the extension of three Municipal Railways (Muni) lines into Daly City was completed for study by transportation engineers of the San Francisco carrier.

The proposed routes include extension of the No. 28 line into Southern Hills, an extended route through the Crocker tract and an extension of the No. 14 line along Mission Street and through Westlake.

The No. 14 line would run past Mary's Help Hospital, over to the St. Francis Square Shopping Center, up Southgate Avenue and past the Skyline Plaza and Westlake Shopping Centers and up Alemany Boulevard and Knowles Avenue back to Mission Street.

This line, according to Councilmen Francis Pacelli and Albert Polonsky, would enable shoppers to get to all the shopping centers in Daly City and to all Mission Street stores.

It would also go by a proposed terminus of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

Two representatives of the Northgate Transit System, Charles Lucas and Joseph Farris, were present at the meeting to voice opposition to the Muni Line extension.

They said that the line extensions would "take the cream (of the routes) and leave us the crumbs."

They pointed out that their firm began operations eight years ago when there was no transportation available at all. They said that now that they were making money, the city wants to take the routes away from them.

Lucas said the firm has been putting on new qeuipment, has hired an office manager and is trying to comply with other stipulations laid down by the Public Utilities Commission.

The stipulations were spelled out when the PUC granted Northgate a five-cent fare raise in February of this year.

Pacelli told the Northgate representatives that Daly City was only requesting a study of the proposed routes. He explained that there is a possibility that Muni might not be able to extend the lines.

He also said Northgate is only a "jitney service," not a "bona fide bus line."

a major delay in the State's construction of the freeway," Wilson wrote.

Siacotos charged that Wilson's answer was "too vague."

He pointed out that the Collins route would be through land that is undeveloped now.

"A freeway doesn't belong through residential property," he said. "The state runs a freeway through and then plants a mass of trees to cover up what it has ruined. We have enough slum areas along the highway to clean up now without creating more."

Paul Kaufmann of 109 Longford Drive, asked the council if the highway was "a cover up" for what he said were serious storm drain problems in the area.

Kaufmann picketed City Hall six years ago when his home was undermined by poor drainage. He said he felt the road would put added pressure on drainage lines that are "already inadequate."

Ahern said that the drainage problem should be eliminated with operation of the Colma Creek Flood Control District. The Army Corps of Engineers will visit South San Francisco soon to undertake a study.

City Manager Eugene Aiello pointed out that as the freeway and the Serramonte development is being built, the city will make sure that most of the inadeqacies will be corrected.

Bill Boldenweck of 105 Dunway Street, said that he would not "buy" Ahern's statement that the city is "powerless" to halt the state or county's plans.

"If that's so, then we would not be here tonight,' he said.

The confrontation with Wilson was suggested by Councilman Guido Rossi who said the engineer should be able to answer questions that councilmen could not because they are not engineers.

Siacotos also pressed the council for action on signal lights or an overcrossing at the intersection of Clay Street and Junipero Serra.

ing unit be decreased to 500 square feet.

Gus Pedemonte, who has been responsible for several apartment projects in Daly City during the last year, agreed.

He said it is impossible to build an attractive three-story apartment building over a garage within the 36-foot height limit without gouging out for the garage area.

The lone resident present, Charles Garry of 485 Wellington Street, argued, however, that the present 36-foot height limit and the 625-square-foot lot area requirement were satisfactory.

He pointed out that San Francisco's lot area request was recently raised from 400 to 800 square feet.

Ricco Lagomarsino, another Daly City developer, suggested that whatever height limit was decided should be measured to the ceiling of the upper floor and that four more feet should be allowed for architectural details.

Commissioner Anthony Masini explained that the reason for the 36-foot limit was because of density restriction.

Coast Unit Backs 3½% Pay Boost

A recommendation to grant an across-the-board salary increase of 3½ per cent to classified personnel was drawn up by the Pacifica Personnel Advisory Board at a meeting Thursday.

A proposal to draw up the recommendation has been under study by the board since May 7. At that time, City Manager Karl Baldwin proposed the 3½ per cent salary increase.

According to Mel Davis, assistant to the city manager, the board studied information on salary trends, cost of living increases, salary surveys of Northern California cities and requests from individuals in arriving at the recommended increase.

At the previous meeting, Davis said the board "agreed to make a special study of all engineering salaries and also to study job descriptions, beginning August 13. Any recommendations resulting from the study will be retroactive to July 1."

The board also agreed to recommend that a starting salary for two building inspectors equal that of police sergeants and fire captains.

to put the money into something else."

He was backed up by Noonan, who said, "I'm sure their library isn't full."

Supt. Richard Foster noted: "We've said consistently that if there were funds available, the library is an inexhaustible place (for their use)."

Trustees then agreed that the Colma gift offer should be declined and that the district would make the necessary purchase. The four other gifts were accepted.

A policy covering unsatisfactory performance by a teacher was tabled to a meeting June 15 at the request of Douglas.

He had previously presented the board with an amendment to existing policy that would have a teacher rated as unsatisfactory regress on the salary schedule. Present policy does not permit a teacher so rated to advance on the schedule.

The Jefferson Elementary Classroom Teachers' Association had countered with a proposal to request such teachers to resign rather than to remain in the district — even at lowered wages.

In requesting that the amendment be tabled, Douglas said he planned to re-write the amendment to incorporate the teachers' association's suggestions.

compensation of teachers with after-hours responsibilities.

In a letter to the committee, Morgan requested that members give thought to the exact wording of a teacher's contract, and the minimum length of a teaching day.

He asked that suggestions be submitted to the board that would define which extra curricular activities are, in the judgment of the committee, included in a teaching contract.

According to the terms of a coaches' proposal, the committee must formulate its suggestions and the trustees must either accept or reject them prior to September of this year.

Members of the committee, as announced by Morgan are:

Asst. Dist. Supt. Fred Goodell, chairman; Barbara Bosio and Joseph McGrath, representing the coaching staff, and Michael Tugendreich and Joseph George, representing the district's two teacher organizations.

Also Roland Boldt of Terra Nova, Verner Curtis of Westmoor, Elizabeth Hall of Jefferson and David TeSelle of Oceana have been appointed by the principals of the schools to represent faculties on the committee.

D.C. ZONING BID

Protests Heard On Apartments

Apartment zoning for commercial property at Eastmoor Avenue and Zita Manor was held over by the Daly City Planning Commission last week after a number of residents protested at a commission hearing.

The rezoning application had been filed by Argyle Investment Company of San Francisco.

Mrs. Maxine Driscoll of 35 Zita Manor told the commissioners that her street is a narrow roadway with a cul-de-sac and is already congested with cars.

She said the proposed apartments at the entrance to Zita Manor would result in additional problems in traffic, parking and congestion.

The location of the apartments would not be compatible next to single family homes and the M. Pauline Brown School, she said.

Commercial use of the property, on the other hand, would not result in as much weekend parking as the apartments, she added.

City Engineer William Chapman said the property was zoned commercial prior to a grading operation that created level land for the Zita Manor homes.

Commissioner Anthony Masini explained that the petitioner could erect apartments on the property as it is presently zoned.

Mrs. Driscoll said she felt the commercial zoning was incorrect and that another mistake should not be made by allowing apartment zoning in the area.

Chapman suggested that access to the apartments from Eastmoor Avenue would have to be at least 100 feet west of the eastern boundary of the property in order to avoid traffic conflicts with the intersection at St. Francis Boulevard.

In other action, the commis-

Approved a rezoning from duplex to commercial for property on the north side of Eighty-eighth Street between Sullivan Avenue and Junipero Serra Boulevard. The petitioner, George Lagomarsino and Company, plans to construct an office building.

Approved a use permit application filed by Alta Monte Properties to construct apartments in an unclassified district in Gambetta Park.

Three Dead In Memorial Day Weekend

Tragedy and violent death marred the Memorial Day holiday weekend for South San Franciscans.

One person was killed in an auto accident, another was found shot to death, and a young South San Francisco boy drowned in a pool near San Andreas.

The boy, Rene Gaston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Gaston, was pushing logs floating in the pool when he slipped into the water.

The shooting victim was Mrs. Catherine C. Bones of 374 Dolores Way, South San Francisco. Police arrested her ex-husband, Robert M. Bones, of 800 Memorial Drive.

Investigators said he told them he had shot his wife after an argument over alimony payments.

The accident victim was Neil Sweet, 41, of Canoga Park. His auto and a car driven by John Newland of Burlingame collided in front of 116 West Orange Avenue, South San Francisco.

unification plan before the augmented committee fails to receive an affirmative vote from residents by August, the county committee could wind up setting up the unified district or districts without the school districts involved having a say in the matter.

The augmented committee last month voted down, 8-5, a plan to unify the districts within the boundaries of the Jefferson High School District.

A solid front by the four elementary school districts and a split among eight of the members of the county committee accounted for the opposition to the plan.

Officer Kills Self With Own Pistol

A Colma private patrol officer died early Thursday morning in Peninsula Hospital of what investigators said was a self-inflicted bullet wound through the brain.

Dead is Irving Schwarz, 49, of 8 Village Lane, Colma, a partner in the Broadmoor Private Patrol and a reserve officer for the Broadmoor police department for the past eight years.

He was discovered, still alive, in the garage-basement of his home about 5 p.m. by his oldest son, Michael Schwarz, 24.

The son, two brothers, Raymond and Richard and Schwarz' wife, Lionilda, had been upstairs at the time of the shooting.

Schwarz was rushed to Peninsula where doctors fought for his life for six hours before he succumbed at 1 a.m.

Schwarz was the first officer on the scene after Broadmoor Patrolman Charles Manning was fatally shot while investigating a burglary January 6.

Broadmoor Police Chief Ray Savage said Schwarz had been on patrol with Manning several times.

He added, however, that he did not think there was any connection between Manning's death and Schwarz' apparent suicide.

Savage said Schwarz had been deeply in debt.

Safety First

A SAFETY INSPECTION of Daly City employees on the job was conducted by Eugene R. Pesce, a safety engineer of the Division of Industrial Safety, Departmtnt of Industrial Relations of the state. The inspection was requested as part of an intensified safety program by the city. D.C. SAFETY INSPECTION

Almost a Clean Bill

Daly City has come away with almost a completely clean bill of health in a surprise safety inspection conducted by an engineer of the State Division of Industrial Safety.

The inspection was part of the city's intensified safety program and had been requested by the Safety Committee.

Eugene R. Pesce, the engineer, complimented city personnel on their "exceptionally outstanding housekeeping" in the corporation yard shop area — specifically the garage, water and street departments.

Three items need attention, however; he noted. Small electrical machine tools needed proper grounding and not enough concern had been given to the care and maintenance of ladders and traffic control around job sites, he said.

Pesce was accompanied on his tour by Safety Committtee Chairman David Rowe and committee member Henry Weisner.

Pesce said that if a strong concern for safety is exhibited by supervisory personnel, employees working under them also will be concerned.

"That will usually result in a lower accident occurrence record," he remarked.

The safety emphasis is being continued with a series of safety lectures or movies that will be given to employees during the year.

LIMA TALK AFTERMATH

CSM Trustees Reject Protest

Reiterating their stand in allowing Communist speaker Mickey Lima to appear as a speaker on the College of San Mateo compus, trustees of the college district last week rejected a post card campaign turned down personal pleas of several speakers and declined to adopt a permanent policy to forbid Communist speakers from appearing on campus in the future.

After more than an hour of debate among some 60 persons crowded into the board room. Robert A. Tarver, chairman of the district board of trustees, stated, "This subject matter has certainly run its course."

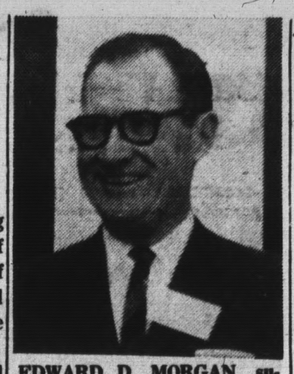
The board took no vote.

Reapeating a statement he made as the board meeting was thrown open to hearing of the public after completion of the regular agenda, Tarver said the controversy should be dropped.

"It is time to be concerned with the dominant role (of the college) of dispensing a collegiate education to its students and residents of this county," the chairman stated.

One outspoken critic of the board, Robert Rouis, 353 Shasta Drive, San Mateo, told the board:

"If you think I'm going to go back and forget this, you're mistaken. It's time we hear something about Americanism instead of communism."



EDWARD D. MORGAN, superintendent of schools for the Jefferson Union High School District, has been honored by the University of San Francisco by the Roy W. Cloud award for distinguished leadership in education. He addressed 55 USF candidates for educational requirements and administered the state oath of allegiance to them. The students will receive their credentials at USF's commencement exercises Sunday.

S.S.F. HIGH SCHOOL

Father Contests Son's Suspension

A sip from a bottle of beer and a puff on a cigar may cost a South San Francisco boy an appointment to the United States Naval Academy.

This is stated in a suit filed in Superior Court last week by the boy's father, in which the court is asked to order South San Francisco High School officials to clear the boy's record.

The suit was filed by Paul Tognetti, of 436 Almanor Avenue, South San Francisco, on behalf of his son, Gerald, a senior student at the high school. Defendants are Louis J. Bagnall, school principal; Paul Nielsen, district superintendent, and the district trustees.

He has, the suit states, won "numerous awards for scholastic honors, leadership qualities and athletic endeavors."

On February 28 and 29, the complaint states, Gerald was one of nine students who took part at the University of California in a model United Nations forum.

During the stay there, according to the complaint, Gerald admittedly "participated in the use, consumption or disposal of an alcoholic beverage" and puffed on a cigar.

For this he was suspended for 25 days.

N. COUNTY GROUP

Mayors' Council Role Is Debated

The San Mateo County Council of Mayors last week debated the merits of an organization called the North County Council of Cities.

Chairman of the mayors' council, John Roselli of Redwood City said the county has numerous "common problems" which would be discussed among all 17 cities of the county.

He pointed to the continual wage hassle with city employees where city is pitted against city in a "never-ending" battle.

Roselli said the county should not "be split" into the north and the south, but should work together to solve these mutual problems "before they get out of hand."

Several officials of the North County organization came to the defense of its existence.

San Bruno Mayor Donald Risso said the organization was formed because a few years ago the North County had about as much representation in Redwood City "as an ant crawling on the floor.

Risso said the organiation has evolved to a point where the cities can effectively sit down and exchange ideas.

"The North County Council of Cities was not formed to split the county," Risso said

Former Pacifica Mayor Harold Feyge, however, said that perhaps the North County could take a closer look at itself and study the possibility of forming a county-wide group.

BASEBALL OBSERVATIONS:

HARD HATS: Although the hard baseball hat worn at the plate may be old hat to relatively new baseball fans, we can remember when they were old hat, and when, in fact, a guy who wore one was considered somewhat of a sissy.

And this wasn't much longer than a decade ago.

Reason why we remember thisso well is because the writer believes he was the third person ever to wear one of the contraptions in San Franicsco semi-pro baseball, and probably the youngest to do so.

As far as we know, our hard hat-wearing was predated by a couple of catchers, coincidentally, both of whom eventually went into pro ball.

First to wear one, we believe, was Sacred Heart all-city catcher Merve "Mike" Donohue, who later had a cup of coffee with the old baseball Seals.

We don't remember any particular reason for Mike wearing his, but we do distinctly remember why another all-city catcher, Remozari of old Commerce, wore his.

It was about the most sincere reason we could think of at the time, since Remo has been beaned at least twice, once almost fatally.

It was this second beaning, incidentally, that caused San Francisco to install a public telephone near the baseball diamonds at Big Rec.

As we remember it, playground director Grove Mohr (the man who developed Ed Cereghino, won several baseball championships for St. Ignatius, and scores of other sandlot and semi-pro titles), had to chase miles to get to a phone while Zari lay twitching on the ground.

Well, that about did it for us. We asked San Francisco sporting goods dealer Bill Ayoob (still in sporting goods and clothes, and now one of San Francisco's better amateur golfers) if he had any of those hard-plated contraptions.

He didn't carry them and had to take us to the Wilson Sporting Goods warehouse, where we waited around for about an hour until they dug up one of the few they had in stock.

They weren't all plastic at that time, just regular coth hats with plates of plastic and foam rubber covering the side of the head from just back of the temples to just beyond the ear. The plates were permanently sewn in in our particular hat, but as we remember it, Zari and Donohue, who donned their hats perhaps within a year of each other and six months to a year before us, had removable plates which they slipped in and out of little pockets inside the cap whenever they batted.

A strange thing was that nobody ever said much to Donohue and Zari about their hats, while we were ribbed unmercifully, especially when we had to dye the light-blue hat navy-blue to comply with our Sunday uniform, and the dye streaked down our sideburns on hot days.

Maybe it was because Mike and Remo were both over six feet tall, Mike a 200-plus pounder and Remo a 190-pound specimen. We weighed 160—wearing the helmet and carrying a lead bat.

Our stock report to bench jackeys at the time was that they'd all be wearing them someday, and darned if we weren't right.

Now wearing them is mandatory throughout baseball, and some major leaguers are even starting to wear them with ear flaps, in the style of the Little Leaguers.

We don't know what psychological effect they might have on hitters. We do know that we couldn't have hit surrounded by an armored tank division. But perhaps the confidence gained from being able to dig in more securely has helped the homerun along, and perhaps pitchers, knowing the beanball's no longer quite as feared as it once was, have slowed down in their use of the duster.

RELIEF PITCHING:

After long hours of deliberation, we've decided to bring all hell down on us by declaring that relief pitching is the most overrated job in baseball.

So big deal! Nine times out of ten, relievers are entering a game that's already totally the starting pitcher's responsibility. Therefore, there's no personal pressure on them. If they get out of the inning, they're a hero, if they don't, it's really the other guy's fault, anyway.

They don't have to worry about mixing their pitches up or pacing themselves. They can throw their best pitch and give it everything they've got on every pitch.

Another item in their favor is that they're usually brought in to face a man who has the percentages against him right away; a lefty pitcher for a lefty hitter, or a low-ball pitcher for a high-ball hitter, or a curve-ball pitcher for a fast-ball hitter, or a pitcher who pitches well into the wind against a batter who hits terribly against the wind, etc., etc. So, often, it's a set-up, to begin with.

An then there's the factor of the difficulty for hitters in making sudden adjustments to another pitcher's style, pace, and so forth, and then they may just be timing him after an inning or so, when he's replaced, his earned-run average protected.

Pinch-hitting, coming off a cold bench without benefit of warm-up, is much tougher.

Starting is still the toughest, most talent-demanding pitching assignment in baseball.

YOUNG HITTERS:

Many baseball experts say young hitters develop faster and more easily than young pitchers Casey Stengel, we believe, is one of them.

Not being a baseball expert, however, we may disagree with this theory, and so we do.

We may be wrong, and we haven't checked past records to verify this, but we'll bet you'll find more leading pitchers, let's say 22 or younger, than you'll find leading hitters of the same age group—in any catagory—in the record books.

Why, just the achievements of young hurlers last year was almost enough in itself to shatter the argument.

MILWAUKEE CAST-OFFS

Milwaukee, you may have noticed of late, has been having pitching problems. No wonder, with all the good youngsters they've traded off over the past five years.

Without even checking rosters, we can think of the following ex-Braves pitchers now throwing with some degree of present or past success for other clubs: Bob Shaw and Bob Hendley, Giants; Joey Jay, Cincy; Juan Pizzaro, White Sox; Carlton Willey, Mets; Don McMahon, Cleveland, and Lew Burdette, Cardinals.

Markovich Wins Chamber Tourney

Chamber manager Pete Markovich fired three birdies in the last five holes to take top honors in the Ninth Annual Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce Golf Tournament Friday at the Olympic Club.

Markovich came on strong in the second round with a 33 that, together with a 37 on the first nine holes, gave him a one under par 70.

He edged out Ed Castagnetto Sr. by one stroke. Castagnetto won the Pacifica Chamber's tournament two weeks ago. He also has won the San Francisco City and Northern California Amateur championships.

Close followers were Charles Krenig and Edward James with 73s.

Low net in the handicap division was won by George Smith, who took advantage of 20 strokes to notch a 60. Trailing him were John Geiger, 76-9-67 and D. D. Donovan, 87-9-68.

Class A Blind Bogie was won by Mike Bouskos with a 58. He was followed by Frank Gigli, 60, Ed Castagnetto Jr. 61, Charles Dougherty, 63 and Ed Farrell 65.

Class B division was won by B. J. Inghram with a 59 followed by Jefferson High School District Superintendent Edward Morgan with a 61. B. C. Ormond took third with a 62 to edge out Fred Goodell, also of the high school district, and Vince Merlo, who fired 63s.

Summer Loop For Baseball Is Mapped

Deadline for teams to enter the Tri-City Summer Baseball League sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department is Friday.

League play will begin Sunday, June 14, for the teams entered in this program designed for boys who have not reached 16 by last December 1 and who have not played on a varsity baseball team at high school.

Teams entered to date and their coaches are: Jefferson A. C., George Benson and Bill Shelver; El Camino A. C., Frank Passarella; South San Francisco Recs, Bob Brian, R.A.L. Tigers, George Pedroni and Ray Agar; Golden Eagles, Bob Kramer and Mike Gudelj; Parkmerced, Rich Watso; Riordian A. C., Roy McCercher and Bernie Wyman, and South Sunset, Chuck Lee.

The teams will play a round-robin schedule with a postseason tournament to the top four teams based on percentage. One point will be awarded to each of the winners of the league and the tournament. If the two winners are different then a single-game playoff will determine the over-all championship.

Play will be on the Marchbanks and Colma diamonds each Sunday afternoon. Additional information can be obtained by calling the Recreation Department at PL 5-0850.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

TODAY IS Jefferson Davis' birthday (how many of you knew that?) and in honor of this Southern gentleman we'll feature recipes from Dixie.

In most of these recipes, the first thing you must do is throw away your calorie counters. For in the south, everything seems to be cooked without a worry about such mundane things as calories. I often wonder how those southern belles ever kept the 17-inch waist for which they were so famous when they ate like this.

This first recipe has been made over and over by my mother and tasted and tested by me. (I am not bothered by a 17-inch waist, may I add.) It is truly delicious and so rich that it goes a long way—for you serve it in small slices.

PECAN PIE

1 cup pecans
3 eggs
¾ cup brown sugar
1 cup corn syrup, dark
¼ cup margarine or butter
2 tablespoons corn starch
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon salt

Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs, syrup, corn starch, vanilla and salt. Mix well. Arrange pecans on bottom of partially cooked pie shell and pour the filling over the pecans. Bake 45 minutes in 350-degree oven or until the pie is set. Makes one nine-inch pie.

THE FOOD that first comes to mind when one talks of southern cooking is southern fried chicken. And there seems to be as many schools of thought as to the best way to fry chicken as there are good cooks.

I have a cookbook called "100 Southern Recipes" and I will quote what these experts have to say about the best way to cook chicken.

It seems a very simple thing but simple things are often the hardest to do. Because they seem so easy, one feels there is no use in being particular.

Here are a few important points to follow in frying chicken southern style:

1. Use iron or heavy skillet with a close fitting top.
2. One cannot be stingy with shortening and have good fried chicken. The fat should be deep enough to cover pieces when boiling up.
3. Shortening must be very hot when chicken is first dropped in, then lowered, so it will not cook too fast. And it must be kept covered to keep the steam in.
4. Always lay flesh side down—first.
5. Do not place too many pieces in pan at one time; the pieces should not touch in frying.
6. Never pour gravy over chicken, but serve in separate dish.

SOUTHERN FRIED CHICKEN

Select a young chicken from 1½ to 2 pounds. Dress and disjoint. Chill .Sift flour (about 1½ cups), add salt and pepper and roll each piece of chicken in flour mixture. Place in heavy frying pan with shortening at least two inches deep. Always place large pieces in first and upon hottest part of frying pan.

Remember, it is very important to have shortening very hot when the chicken is first dropped in. Then lower the flame and keep covered to keep steam in. When done and a golden brown, remove and make gravy as follows:

Pour from pan all the fat except two tablespoons. Add to this two tablespoons flour, mix smooth and add one cup milk, stir until it boils and is thick and rich, add salt and pepper and pour in a separate dish from the chicken. (If plain gravy is desired, use hot water in place of milk.) Yields four servings.

Well there you are. Serve this fried chicken with mashed potatoes, a tossed green salad and pecan pie for dessert and you've got it all whipped.

See you next week. And I'll bet no one can guess what historical event took place on June 10.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

DID YOU think those charming moppets beaming at you from the inside of your television tube Sunday afternoon looked familiar? Well, if you live in Daly City there is a good chance that you do know them for they are all local youngsters who are enrolled in the YWCA's Creative Play Groups designed to help three and four year olds prepare for kindergarten.

"It's Happening Here," the very fine documentary program which is televised each Sunday afternoon at 1:30 p.m., included the children along with Mrs. Doris Fox, the co-ordinator for the creative play program, in the segment designed to show the depth and scope of modern social work. Doing their bit to illustrate the enjoyment and value of the pre school program were Mark Breslin, 3, Katie Lober, 4; Karen Michels, 3; and Eric and Brenda Watts, ages 3 and 4, respectively. Very much in evidence back stage and playing integral parts in the filming were Mrs. Mona Baker and William Wagner.

DO YOU enjoy a tasty ham dinner with no pots, pans or dishes to clean afterward?

If the prospect of dining out sounds inviting please accept the invitation of the girls of Skyline Assembly of the Rainbow to attend their annual spring pay-project dinner being given this Saturday evening in the Crocker Masonic Temple, 17 Hillcrest Drive in Daly City.

Nancy Jarvis is in charge of the dinner, which will be served continuously from 5:30 p.m. until 7 p.m. Reservations are now available to those contacting Miss Jarvis at PL 5-483 1 or tickets may be purchased at the door Saturday evening. Adults will be admitted for $1.50 and children under 12 for one dollar. A continuous screening of travel films will also be a part of the dinner program.

MRS. MURRAY FREEDMAN of Westlake and Mrs. Melvin Sears were the guests at an intimate farewell luncheon in the delightfully unusual Diamond Heights home of Mrs. Leon Yudkin Thursday afternoon as Mrs. Yudkin prepares to close her home and join her husband in Santiago, Chile.

Known locally for her work with the youth of Temple Judea, Mrs. Yudkin has spent four years in the post of art director of the religious school at the temple and has found a most appreciative audience for her creativity among a large segment of the local population.

Much of the interior of the beautiful new Temple Judea is her work as is the modern Menorah that adorns the exterior of the building.

Thursday's gathering was the second farewell luncheon and was planned primarily for Mrs. Freedman who was in the East to inspect the new cruise ship Shalom and attend the New York World's Fair when a large group of local friends and admirers dined at the Yudkin home.

Among those attending the first luncheon were Daly City's Mrs. Mina Mihalovich, Mrs. Marie Poggio, Mrs. Evelyn Coleman, Mrs. Marge Poulos, Mrs. Eleanor Dunbar, Mrs. Mary Ellen Campbell, Mrs. Helen Corcannon, Mrs. Gloria George, Mrs. Mary Trobock and Mrs. Doris Delbex. Mrs. Virginia Bassett and Mrs. June Roberts, both of San Francisco, also attended. Both groups were treated to displays of Mrs. Yudkin's art including oils, pen and ink sketches, water colors and prints made by the Chinese stone rubbing process.

Mrs. Yudkin jetted east this morning to visit her family in Washington, D. C., and her husband's people in New York prior to her departure for Chile aboard a Grace Line steamship on June 24.

Yudkin will be stationed in Santiago for two years as he serves as the A. I. D. Tax advisor to the Chilean government.

A CHAMPAGNE supper at the Sai Wu restaurant honored Westlake's Jery Collins who will graduate from the University of California Hastings College of Law on Friday.

AL BELOTZ pitched "nearly flawless ball" to lead the dads to a 7 to 2 victory over the sons during a spirited game of baseball played during the second annual family picnic sponsored by the boys of Cub Scout Pack 248.

The festive afternoon was spent in Marchbanks Park and celebrated the end of the spring softball season. Attending with their families were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lorber, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kerekes, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Mayhew, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Traversy, Belotz, Mr. and Mrs. Zane Kaplan, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Candee, Mr. and Mrs. Maury Weinberg and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Tras.

The pack's B team, which is coached by Dr. Stanley Bacon, marked the end of the season by attending a Giant's game at Candlestick Park last weekend.

The three coaches who have been involved in this year's baseball program, Bacon, Tras and Robert Borghello, were honored at the pack meeting last Thursday. Each was presented with an engraved trophy by lads they have been training during the past weeks.

Larry Blake is now busily involved in making plans for the pack's Father-Son camp-out to be held at Huddart Park, near Woodside, on June 6 and 7. To date more than 100 reservations have been made for the trip.

COMMENT

They're Braced For the Oratory

ONCE AGAIN it is commencement time and more than 450,000 graduates are ready to stream from the nation's colleges to take up the manifold tasks for which they are confident their training and talent equip them. And as they adjust cap and gown, they will brace themselves for the oratory soon to flow from hundreds of platforms.

But at least a few of those nominated to perform this ritual must be doubting both the utility of the commencement address and their own ability to say anything their young audiences will find illuminating and convincing.

There will be the inevitable flattering assurance that adults, having gotten the world in a mess, look to the Class of '64 to take over and get things straightened out. Members of the class will recognize this is not to be taken quite seriously, for they know that every generation says the same thing to the next, and hasn't any intention of stepping aside for quite a while.

MOREOVER, the Class of '64 is old enough to realize that, with all their errors and omissions, those who are now managing things haven't done too badly. Since this year's graduating class was born, they have developed atomic energy which, for all its hazards, promises much good for mankind. Great advances in science and medicine, including space flight and the defeat of polio, have been achieved.

But if the Class of '64 declines to swallow self-deprecation, neither will it pay much heed to commencement speeches that attempt to chart paths for the young to follow. For while the wisdom of the past has its uses, few learn much from it.

Every generation must rely mainly on its own experience to carry it through to the age when it, too, starts making commencement speeches.

Some Congratulations

MANY ITEMS in the news this time of year chronicle the fact that some high school student has won a scholarship. Such scholarships are recognition of high intelligence, or hard work, or a knack in a particular field. Often as not they go to students who haven't basked in the athletic limelight or any of the other achievements that are chronicled in the day-to-day news.

There are enough scholarships today that a bright high school lad or lass often can get financial help for college though Mother and Dad cannot afford such aid.

This is good because America will need all the bright minds it can muster in the years ahead. This year's scholarship winners deserve congratulatons for achieving honor for themselves, their teachers and their community.

In Among the Redwoods

A GROUP PICNIC area is seen in this view of one of many recreational facilities found in San Mateo County's Memorial Park. Situated among 315 acres of redwood forest about midway between La Honda and Pescacero on the La Honda-Pescadero Road, the park has camping, swimming and hiking facilities in addition to camp fire and naturalist programs. This is another in a series of pictures depicting parks, beaches and national monuments within a day's driving time of the North County.

Pacific Parade

The Three R's Without Walls

Don Miller

LEAVE IT to that forward-looking gang over in the Jefferson Elementary School District. They just might be ready to come up with another North County "first."

For the district's guiding lights the other day listened to a most interesting proposal that could lead to the construction of an elementary school with a very futuristic floor plan. Or at least it seems futuristic to us.

This tomorrow-type thinking concerns Woodrow Wilson School, the older portion of which the district wants to demolish and replace with a building that meets current educational standards.

An application to do just that is being considered by state officials and if it's approved, the decision would establish a precedent. That's because Woodrow Wilson, erected in 1935, satisfies the state's earthquake-proof law and on that score, can't be torn down.

Superintendent Dick Foster and his staff, however, have figured out it would cost more to remodel the present building to bring facilities up to standard than it would to tear down the old structure and replace it with a new one.

THAT'S ONE kind of pioneering. Now the district is considering a step further—this futuristic floor plan. The plan calls for a Woodrow Wilson that has no walls between classrooms.

That's right, no walls! Just space. The proposal, outlined to the board by representatives of the architectural firm of Angus McSweeney, would work something like this:

The new building would have sections with four classrooms each. The classrooms would be situated at each of the four corners of the section with a central, open area in the middle.

This open area is the key provision. It would serve as a general purpose teaching facility for instruction in such subjects as art, music, social studies and so on. Two or more of the four classes in the section could meet in the central area.

As for noise between teaching areas, there just wouldn't be any — despite the lack of walls between classes.

Noise traveling between classes would be eliminated by the usual acoustical ceiling material but far more important than that, by the use of acoustical carpeting on floors.

NOW THIS may seem difficult to believe but the science of acoustics and the development of efficient noise-absorbent materials has advanced to the point where this floor plan is not only possible, it is in practice elsewhere.

According to the McSweeney people, if the acoustics were right, walls absolutely would not be needed. What WOULD be needed, Foster pointed out, would be some sort of barrier that would bar visual communication or visual interest among the classes.

These barriers could be erected in a variety of ways but the essential ingredient of the entire plan — no fixed walls — would remain unaltered.

One of the advantages of this sort of arrangement is that it would be highly conducive to team teaching — a system in which teachers get together and plan course programs for their students, all of whom would be in the same grade in any given section.

Foster, however, readily conceded that teachers, today, are not trained to work that closely together.

"We would have to select teachers who would want to participate in such a program and make this thing go."

WHAT'S BEEN the experience in other schools that have gone ahead and erected wall-less classrooms?

Vin Stratton, assistant superintendent, had an answer for that one. He told trustees he had visited such an operation in Cupertino and had talked to teachers involved.

They all had taught in classrooms with walls between them, then had switched to the wall-less format.

When Vin asked them if they liked the new way of teaching, he said they told him: "We would have to be carried out (of the new program) rather than voluntarily leave."

Now if Jefferson does get a green light from the state on building a new Woodrow Wilson and the trustees decide the open-area type of teaching unit would be desirable, all would not be lost if the whole business didn't turn out in practice the way theory says it should.

Foster explained that permanent panels could be installed between teaching units and the school would simply revert to the type of classrooms the district has today. These panels, by the way, would be included in the original planning and cost computation for the school — just in case they would be needed.

Which is REALLY the way to cover all the bases.

SHADES OF MAJOR BOWES — Gordon Hanson, president of Challenge Contracting Company, the firm that succeeded Oddstad Homes, proved to be the master of the situation the other day in a talk before the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce.

Hanson had been off and running for some time on a talk about Challenge's plans for Pacifica when somebody accidentally banged the chamber's bell, used by the president to bring members to order.

It sounded like the speaker was being summarily shut off. While several chamber members looked rather aghast, Hanson merely quipped, "I didn't know Major Bowes was back with us," and shifted right back into what he had been saying before.

All of which, in our book, deserves a blue ribbon for a masterful ad lib at an otherwise embarrassing moment.

North County Notebook

A Bonanza in Sales Taxes

Ron Bates

THE REASON who the cities of Daly City, South San Francisco and San Bruno are doing everything they can to help three developers build shopping centers in their cities was very evident a couple of weeks ago when the State Board of Equalization released its fourth quarter figures of taxable sales.

The fourth quarter for the equalization people is one of the busiest for them to figure because its of the things sold during the Christmas season.

Once again, the North County, despite the fact that it has only 40 per cent of San Mateo County's population, accounted for more than half of the county's total sales, which amounted to a whopping $220,554,000.

What has this to do with shopping centers?

Well, in the South County, there is a shopping center of approximately 37 acres called Hillsdale. It is the biggest factor in the city of San Mateo's leading the list of retail transactions.

Total retail store figures for that city were slightly over $35-million, almost double those of second-place Redwood City.

Retail sales, of course, mean sales tax revenues.

In the shopping race derby, Daly City has its anticipated tax money riding on a horse called Serramonte. Suburban Realty, the developer, has the building know-how of Standard Builders and the money of the Crocker Land Company working for it.

A 73-acre shopping center, twice the size of Hillsdale, is planned at the junction of Junipero Serra Freeway and a lateral freeway to the coast. City Finance Director Joseph Arch estimates Serramonte will mean sightly over a $1-million in revenues for the city if things go as planned.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO'S entry is the Westborough Shopping Center—to be developed by the Callan interests at the intersection of Junipero Serra and Westborough Boulevard. The city fathers are also expecting a nice return in tax dollars.

San Bruno's colors in the derby are being carried by Consolidated Land Company. The massive center Consolidated plans will come complete with built-in customers in the form of tower apartment residents all around the center.

If anybody has landed the big department stores, they're not talking too loud. Then again, maybe the stores are waitng to see who the leader is.

Although the race is beginning now, it will take a couple of years before the finish line is reached.

ONE OF THE reasons why South San Francisco may be reluctant to contribute $50,000 to the extension of Hickey Boulevard is because of this shopping center hassle.

The county had a pow-wow recently with the cities of South San Francisco, Daly City and Pacifica on the Hickey extension.

Jim Fitzgerald, chairman of the board of supervisors, pointed out that Daly City went along with South San Francisco on the multi-million dollar Colma Creek Flood Control project, even though South San Francisco would derive the major share of the benefits from it.

In other words, I'll scratch your back if you scratch mine.

However, South San Francisco officials shook their heads. They said later that they would put the $50,000 in the county pot for the extension of Chestnut Avenue, which, incidentally connects with Westborough.

Before the Christen Ranch developers (Serramonte) gave Daly City the nod, however, the South San Francisco city fathers were very emphatic about the Hickey extension and listed it so in the Nolte Report on county roads.

SOMETIMES, I think those people who continually get up at council meetings to complain get frustrated when they see all their efforts go to naught.

Their presence at these meetings, I believe, is a definite "must" in our system and they should not be discouraged too much.

For those who may fall into this category, I say, take heart.

In Belmont, City Engineer Norman Hansen, an employee of planners Wilsey, Ham and Blair, resigned after some persistent critics at the Belmont council charged that there was a conflict of interest involved.

A similar charge a few months prior was partially instrumental in causing the resignation of Lee Ham as city engineer for Millbrae, one of the principals of the planning firm. Ham was named as one of the defendants in a $3.5-million conflict of interest law suit by James Himmel of the Town Hall Association.

Hence, the relations of the engineering firm with Peninsula cities have been revamped. They now do business with cities only on a project basis.

The Marquee

A Treat In Store

Barbara Bladen

IF YOU'RE not yet convinced that the proposed Circle Star Theatre in San Carlos isn't the biggest entertainment treat the Peninsula has in store for a long time to come, you should have been with the press when we flew to Anaheim for a preview of the Danny Dare-Sammy Lewis Theatre.

Melodyland (not to be confused with the one in Berkeley) is a duplicate of what will open here in September. The 3,270 seats will be increased to 3,500 in San Carlos.

At first glance it looks like Candlestick Park with a beveled roof. The theatre is large, handsome and comfortable, with pastel seats of different colors to section off the auditorium. The arm rests fold up to make crossing a row less like an obstacle course. The acoustics are good and there's lots of room for inventive staging.

The acting area is under a carousel canopy that hides the lights and microphones. They are controlled electronically from a $40,000 electric board. Chandeliers, bird cages and draperies appear from out of the ceiling. Even the aisles are used as part of the stage as singers move toward the center or stop mid-aisle to deliver a number.

"MY FAIR LADY" with Michael Rennie is the show chosen to open both theatres. Rennie told me he will not be portraying the Henry Higgins role here, however, as he is committed to a Broadway murder mystery, "Heart's Delight."

The loss won't be so great because the suave and debonair Englishman plays the elocution teacher without much polish. He substitutes arm waving for characterization.

There is a rumor that Robert Cummings may do the nonsinging role, but whoever they sign will be a big name.

There's no use comparing the center stage effect with the musicals at the Garden Court in San Francisco. There the audience had to look up. In San Carlos you'll be looking straight ahead or slightly down. No seat is more than 50 feet from the stage. There's a big, open feeling about the house and not one blocked sightline.

I'll admit that seats on the aisles will take getting used to. The constant patter of padded feet as stage hands run up and down in the dark to change sets is somewhat distracting. It's also a surprise when the spotlight focuses on an actor singing in the aisle and you find 3,500 faces staring in your direction.

The operation is highly professional and expensive. There are 176 members of the cast and crew and a 15-piece orchestra which is adjacent to the stage but out of sight of the audience.

WE CHATTED with Producer Lewis at the cast party after the opening. He is no newcomer to the Bay Area, having been the owner of a once famous San Francisco nightclub, "Slapsie Maxies."

"We researched the Peninsula for two years and statistics show that we have a potential 2,900,000 audience draw within a 26-mile radius."

Since most stars work on a percentage of the business, the management won't be digging into profits or operating capital to pay big salaries. One week engagements have been booked for Jimmy Durante, Nov. 24; Nat King Cole, Dec. 1; Mitzie Gaynor, Dec. 6 and Johnny Mathis, Dec. 26. A full scale children's musical will run all during the Christmas holidays at $1 per ticket.

Peninsula Panorama

Calory Counting Can Be Perilous

George Whitesell

FULL MANY perils lurk around the Peninsula calory counter and will rear up their delicious heads on the slightest provacations, or for no reasons at all.

The more sincere and serious he or she is, the more they will be plagued by temptations.

It's like the old story of Eve and the forbidden apple — sooner or later some snake will tempt you to the fall.

The roughest hazards are encountered by the poor devils with families in which all the other members are spared weight problems and can indulge their appetites with lusty gusto.

They must sit at a table where everyone else is eating as if there were a prize for whoever can tuck away the most groceries. It is impossible to enjoy a carrot stick and a lettuce leaf under such circumstances.

And a sparse pellet of ground sirloin looks downright repulsive when everyone else is shucking pork chops as if they were at a husking bee.

The alternative to this, eating alone, is uncommonly like solitary confinement at Folsom and just about as enjoyable.

Whatever the circumstances, the luckless party on a diet gets to feeling ill-treated and has a belief that he is being punished unfairly for vague, unmentionable crimes he never committed.

He considers it a very raw deal that other folks can chow up like gluttons on anything that strikes their fancy—and never gain an ounce—while he can put on a half-pound by just watching a cake mix commercial on television.

He is absolutely right about this, but he will find that his doctor is totally uninterested in the justice of the situation and does not even have any sympathy with this point of view.

This unfairness is probably the worst of the temptations and constantly beckons the victim to declare, "The hell with it!" and eat a square meal.

THE MORE routine temptations begin at breakfast when the poor soul regards his dry toast with distaste and distinctly sees the jam pot winking at him with a come-hither.

On the coffee-break at work, more fortunate people are regaling and stuffing themselves with delicious doughnuts, pieces of pie and large chunks of delectable pastry. Every prospect pleases and only his own coffee is vile.

Lunchtime is sheer torture. The whole world about him is smacking its lips and chomping juicy tidbits while the dieter chokes on his own miserable morsels.

There is no relief in work. All of a sudden everyone in the plant or office, or on the job, begins to celebrate birthdays and engagements by passing aroud huge chunks of whip-cream cake and great gobs of ice cream. There hasn't been anything to eat in the office for three years but now the ants are sending out for reinforcements.

CO-WORKERS are callous. They stand close by and munch candy bars and bags of peanuts all day long.

Tune in the car radio on the way home from work and all that will emerge is a constant series of plugs describing delectable foods in luscious and mouth-watering detail.

At home the cheerful rite of daily return has perished. No cold and frosty bottle of beer awaits. There is no cheerful chinkle from the Martini pitcher — even the olive is verboten.

And, when, in the interest of maintaining some small ties with normal human life, the luckless diet slave attends a cocktail party the hors d'ouvre and canapes are the finest ever seen. When he could eat they consisted of a very dead sardine on soggy toast, but now that he can't have any there are all sorts of delicacies that make him drool.

At the end of the day he goes to bed hungry and knowing that he will rise even hungrier.

He curses the day he was born and the day they invented the calory.

Almost inevitably the time will come when the temptation is too much and forces at least a brief orgy of food — anything eatable.

Forgive the poor guy or gal for succumbing to temptation. Anyone who thinks it's easy to diet is invited to try it.

BETTER BUSINESS

Liability in Dry Cleaning Listed

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau "Barometer"

THE BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU has had a number of complaints concerning unethical drycleaning establishments. In answer to one of the major complaints received, we quote Lien Law No. 3055.

(a) Any garment, clothing, wearing apparel or household goods remaining in the possession of a person, firm, partnership or corporation, on which cleaning, pressing, glazing or washing has been done or upon which alterations or repairs have been made, or on which materials or supplies have been used or furnished, for a period of 90 days or more after the completion of such work, may be sold to pay the reasonable or agreed charges and the costs of notifying the owner or owners.

Provided firm to whom charges are payable, shall first notify the owner or owners of the time and place of sale.

Provided, however, that the persons, firms, partnerships, or corporations operating as warehouses or warehouseman shall not be affected by this section.

(c) A registered letter, with a return address, addressed to the owner or owners, at their address given at the time of delivery of article to a firm, person, etc., to render any of the services or labors set out in this act, stating the time and place of sale, shall constitute notice.

If address of owner unknown, a posting of notice, for a period of 30 days, at a prominent place in the receiving office of person, firm, or corporation required to give notice, is sufficient.

(d) The firm, person or corporation to whom charges repayable, shall, from proceeds of sale, deduct charges due plus costs of notifying owner, and shall immediately mail to owner at his address, if known a notice of sale, amount of overplus, if any, and at any time within 12 months, upon demand of owner, pay to the owner said sums or overplus in his hands.

(e) Persons to take advantage of this act must keep posted in a prominent place in their receiving office or offices at all times one notice which shall read as follows:

"All articles cleaned, pressed, glazed and laundered, washed, altered or repaired and not called for in 90 days shall be sold to pay charges."

"All articles stored by agreement and charges not have been paid for 12 months will be sold to pay charges."

Override Tax Evokes Discussion

A possibility that the Jefferson Union High School District might have to increase its override tax to three and a half cents per $100 of assessed valuation evoked a spirited debate among board of trustee members at the board's last meeting.

The debate resulted in the tabling of a budget item that would extend medical benefits to the district's more than 300 faculty members. Classified employes now have such benefits.

According to the district's administration, the extension would cost an additional $41,706 annually to provide coverage for an estimated 435 employes.

This would require an increase from the present half cent to three and a half cents in the present override tax.

Board members expressed concern over such an increase and requested a more extensive research report be submitted by the administration prior to any board action.

In other business, board members heard a report by Assistant Superintendent Fred Goodell on the progress of the hot water line at Westmoor High School.

Board member Dr. Jerry Miles reported that he will make a personal inspection of the system, which is now partially installed on the roof of the school.

According to Goodell, plumbing contractors have now punched approximately 60 holes in the roof of the structure and are installing the overhead line. The project is scheduled for completion early in September.

Coast Group Admits Meet Was Mistake

By PHYLLIS CLEMENTS

Members of Pacifica's Safety Committee have acknowledged that they made a mistake in holding their April meeting at the home of a member rather than in a public meeting place.

However, Pacifica Police Chief Niel Tremaine, speaking in behalf of the committee, noted:

"We're sorry. But on one at City Hall is upset. The Bombardment is coming from the newspapers."

The entire incident, he said, arose from a simple misunderstanding. He described this sequence of events:

The Safety Committee usually meets in the faculty room of Vallemar School on the third Monday of each month.

At a meeting of the group last September, he informed members that meetings for the year were all scheduled except for the third Monday in April.

That night was the first night of Public Schools Week and school facilities would not be available.

A committee member offered the use of her home and the offer was accepted.

Tremaine said that no one realized that legal considerations were involved.

(The Brown Act prohibits meetings of public organizations in private quarters.)

Calling the meeting in the member's home was duly recorded in the minutes of the September meeting and each member was reminded of the change of pace when the agenda was sent out prior to the April session.

"Almost never do we have anyone come in (to a meeting) who isn't on the agenda," said Tremaine.

Subsequently, Councilman Harland Minshew received a complaint about the meeting, which was referred to City Attorney Conrad Reisch.

At a council meeting, Reisch said he would circulate a memorandum to all committees, outling provisions of the Brown Act.

In other business, the committee has:

Recommended stop signs at Monterey Road and Hickey Boulevard.

Discussed equestrian crossings and made plans to meet in joint session with the Park, Beach and Recreation Commission to correlate the crossings with trails.

Decided to continue study of safety problems involved with the city's southeast area.

Laguna Grant Is $56,332

The Laguna Salada School District has been awarded a federal grant of $56,332 as a federally impacted school district.

The funds are paid to cover the cost to the district for the education of children of parents who are employed in federal installations that do not pay school taxes.

HUBCAPS TAKEN

Doris Torre of 141 School Street reported to Daly City police that thieves stole four wire hubcaps from her car while it was parked in the parking area of the apartment house between midnight at 6 a.m. Thursday. The loss was estimated at $100.

GIRLS from the sewing classes put on a fashion show for the mothers in the P-TA, modeling the clothes that they had made. Everything from bathing suits to coats were shown. The decorations were superb, the major colors being orange and yellow. A professional model gave the girls a one-day lecture on proper form, which the girls showed during the fashion show perfectly.

A new club is being formed at TN called the International Relations Club. Already club members are busy planning for the Model United Nations Conference to be held in February, 1965.

SPEAKING of fashions, many senior girls are becoming very fashion-conscious, which they really have to be considering the many new clothes required for the senior activities and graduation night. Everything from evening gowns for the Senior Ball to sports wear for the Senior Picnic are needed. These things may cost a lot of money, but they'll be worth it if only for the memories they'll bring back in the future.

The Black N Banquet, sponsored and attended by all Varsity and Junior Varsity Block winners, was held last week in the multi-purpose room. The guest speaker was wrestling champion Russ Camilleri. A chicken dinner is planned.

Church Drafts Master Plan

A master plan for future construction has been accepted by the congregation of Our Redeemers Lutheran Church, according to Pastor Irvin B. Tweet.

The total plan, depicted in an architect's sketch above, includes an educational building for pre-school and primary grades, one for upper grades that is convertible to a fellowship hall, new kitchen facilities, and remodelling of the existing building into a permanent sanctuary, with new sacristy and choir facilities, and new entrances.

Estimated cost of the entire building project is $172,727.

The church is lcoated at the corner of El Camino Real and Southwood Drive in South San Francisco.

"We feel strongly that growth of church facilities is a necessary part of the growth of the entire community," stated Robert Hall, chairman of the building committee.

"Not only do we feel the pressing needs of additional space within our present congregation, he said. South San Francisco looks forward to hundreds of new families in the next several years. Churches as well as schools, libraries, businesses, should have facilities to serve the needs of these families for stable growth in their new homes."

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

Many people do not know that a person can lose all of his teeth—even though they are not decayed.

Gum disease can cause loss of all teeth, by leading to destruction of the bony sockets and the periodontal membranes that teeth need for support.

Gum disease is often the result of neglect that allows accumulation of tartar on teeth; if not removed, these accumulations start the processes that result in disease.

Regular checkups give the dentist an opportunity to guard against gum disease by cleaning and scaling the teeth. Even if the gum disease has started, your dentist, if given a chance, is usually able to prevent serious trouble.

In Northern Calif. Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

DUCKLING — Great for summer's Sunday dinners whether it's roasted indoors or barbecued on the outdoor grill.

Barbecue Duckling On Outdoor Grill

The best outdoor duckling we ever ate was prepared by, yes, a man, over a barbecue grill.

His secret? Having the duck cut up in neat-to-eat pieces, then covering them with seasoned boiling water and simmering for about half an hour. After that the duck got drained and grilled in baskets over hot coals.

As he grilled, turning the baskets often, he basted the birds with his own barbecue sauce. We can't give you the ingredients for that — he wouldn't part with his formula. But it might have been dry red wine mixed with honey. An odd combination but it tasted great.

If the duck is to be cooked indoors—say for Sunday dinner —the woman of the house might like to have this new stuffing recipe recently tried at our house. This poultry dressing is the soft bread variety given interesting texture and flavor by adding coconut and orange. Ducks may take to water—but every good Roast Duckling takes to orange juice.

ROAST DUCK WITH ORANGE COCONUT STUFFING

- 2 tablespoons butter or a margarine
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- 1 cup diced celery
- 2 cups soft bread crumbs
- 1 cup flaked coconut
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon sugar
- ¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning
- 2 teaspoons grated orange rind
- 1-3 cup (about) orange juice
- 1duckling

In a medium saucepan or skillet, in the melted butter, slowly cook the onion until tender and golden. Add celery, bread crumbs, coconut, salt, sugar, poultry seasoning and orange rind; toss together adding just enough of the orange juice to moisten. (Makes about 2¼ cups. Spoon into duck body and neck cavities without packing. Roast according to favorite method.

Curry Flavors Thrifty Lamb Ball Entree

Families appreciate variety in their meals, particularly in the summer when appetites tend to wilt.

A perfect choice for such a time, points out a meat authority, are lamb balls which are called curried, and which carry a good array of fine seasonings to point up the delicate flavor of the lamb.

Ground lamb is used in this entree. It's one of the more economical cuts of meat so it can also be used at those moments when the budget needs a bit of stretching.

Curried Lamb Balls

- 1 pound ground lamb
- ¼ cup finely chopped onion
- ⅛ garlic clove, finely chopped
- ¼ cup corn flakes, crushed
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ cup milk
- 1 tablespoon lard or drippings
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 1 teaspoon curry powder
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1½ cups apple juice
- ⅓ cup shredded coconut
- 2 tablespoons chopped, salted peanuts
- Cooked rice, if desired

Combine lamb, onion, garlic, corn flakes, salt and milk. Shape into 16 balls about the size of a walnut. Brown meat balls in lard or drippings. Remove meat balls from pan. Pour off drippings, reserving 1 tablespoon. Add onion to reserved drippings and cook 5 minutes. Stir in curry powder, flour and salt. Add apple juice. Mix well and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Return meat balls to gravy. Cover tightly and simmer about 20 minutes. Serve topped with coconut and peanuts. Serve with rice, if desired. 4 servings.

Gourmet Air Given Roast Of Pork Loin

Savory, flavorful roasts are in season all year around. A pork loin roast dressed up with a sweet 'n' pungent topping is certain to go to the head of the list of favorites.

If you're having guests, you'll probably want to use a center cut loin of pork for the roast.

For the family, with an eye on the food budget, you might want to use a more thrifty cut like the sirloin end of the loin or the blade and loin roast.

No matter what the cut used, all porks contains high quality protein. In addition, pork is one of the best sources of that very essential B vitamin, thiamine.

There's ease of carving, too, in a pork loin roast, says a home economist and noted meat authority, if the backbone is removed from the loin by the meat retailer. When roasted, on a rack, with a thermometer testing the doneness (185 degrees F.), this will give an appetizing roast.

SWEET 'N' PUNGENT PORK ROAST

- 4 to 6-pound pork loin roast
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1 tablespoon sweet pickle juice
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon ginger
- ⅛ teaspoon chili powder

Have backbone removed from loin. Place meat, fat side up, on rack in an open roasting pan. Mix together all remaining ingredients and spread mixture over meat. Insert meat thermometer so bulb reaches center of the thickest part, being careful that thermometer does not rest in fat or bone. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until meat thermometer registers 185 degrees F. Allow about 35 to 40 minutes per pound for roasting.

WHOLE WHEAT BREAD — bake it at home, then make sand wiches of it with watercress, cucumber and old-fashioned boiled dressing.

Whole Wheat Bread Comeback

We notice a resurgence of interest in whole wheat yeast bread. Cooks tell us they want to try baking it at home.

So here's the latest recipe for the bread that we've tried. This loaf has a hint of lemon. And here's where we give you a hint. The full flavor of the lemon comes through best when the bread is eaten fresh from the oven. To our way of thinking, eating freshly baked bread isn't exactly a hardship.

This bread has the soft cake-like texture and sweet flavor that is popular nowadays. When we baked it we used stone-ground whole wheat flour. This is available at some food markets and at most "health food" stores.

AMERICAN WHOLE WHEAT BREAD

- ¾ cup milk, scalded
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 4 tablespoons salt
- ⅓ cup butter or margarine
- ⅓ cup light molasses
- 1½ cups warm water
- 2 packages active dry yeast
- 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
- 4½ cups unsifted whole-wheat flour
- 2¾ cups (about) unsifted whtie flour

Into the scalded milk, stir the sugar, salt, butter and molasses; cool to lukewarm. Into the warm water, stir the yeast until dissolved; stir in lukewarm milk mixture, grated lemon rind and whole-wheat flour. beat until smooth. Add enough additional white flour to make a soft dough.

Turn out onto a lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic—about 10 minutes. Place in a greased bowl; turn to grease top. Cover; let rise in a warm place free from draft until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch down dough; turn out onto a lightly floured board. Divide in half; shape into two loaves. Place in two greased 9 by 5 by 3 inch loaf pans. Cover; let rise in a warm place free from draft until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven about 30 minutes or until bread tests done.

PICKLED CAULIFLOWER Rolls

- 1 large head cauliflower
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup each sugar and distilled vinegar
- 1 bay leaf
- 12 cloves and 12 allspice

Separate flowerets from cauliflower and wash in cold water; use any small green leaves. In a 10-inch covered skillet in the boiling water with ½ teaspoon of the salt, boil the cauliflower until tender; drain; turn into a shallow container. In the clean skillet over low heat stir together the remaining 1 teaspoon salt, sugar and vinegar until sugar dissolves. Tie spices in a double-thickness of cheesecloth and add; bring to a boil and simmer 5 minutes. Pour over cooked cauliflower; add spice bag; cool; cover and chill. Remove from marinade before serving.

Indoors, Out, Have Picnic With Kabobs

There's no need to fret about a rainy day ruining your picnic plans. Have one indoors. It can certainly be as much fun as the one you planned outside.

Spread a blanket on the floor in the recreation room or dining room. Eat right out of the packed picnic basket with paper plates and cups, just as though you were out-of-doors.

It's easy to make this quick switch in your plans, if you've planned Fiesta Ham Kabobs as the main feature.

Use cooked or canned ham. ...vises a home economist and ...eat authority, cut into 1½-inch ...ubes. Threaded on skew with the ham will be sweet potatoes, pineapple chunks and green peppers to give a meal-in-one with a short cooking period.

FIESTA HAM KABOBS

- 1½ pounds cooked ham, cut in 1½-inch cubes
- 1 can (16 ounces) pineapple chunks
- 2 green peppers, cut in 1½-inch squares
- 1 can (1 pound, 7 ounces) sweet potatoes, drained
- ¼ cup melted butter or margarine
- 4 large metal skewers

Thread on metal skewers, alternating pineapple chunk, ham cube, green pepper square, pineapple chunk and sweet potato. Place kabobs on rack in broiler pan. Insert in broiler so the top surface of meat is 3 to 4 inches from heat. Brush the vegetables and fruit with melted butter or margarine. Broil kabobs until lightly browned on all sides, about 12 to 15 minutes. Four servings.

Novel Filling Hid Between Beef Patties

Stuck in a menu rut?

You need never be in this particular kind of rut as long as there are so many hamburger varieties on parade.

Not only is ground beef versatile in the ways in which it's served, but it has flavor harmony with so many different kinds of foods. With ground beef as a main attraction for the entree, there is neither meal monotony nor same-same entrees.

To be at its best, try to select ground beef which is neither too lean nor too fat. A good ratio recommended by a meat cookery expert, uses 25 per cent fat with 75 per cent lean.

Seasonings which are used in the following recipe are all popular — sour cream spiced with atsup, horseradish and onions. Hidden between two patties, the creamy mivture brings both surprise and delight as soon as it's discovered.

Surprise Hamburgers

- 1½ pounds ground beef
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- ½ cup dairy sour cream
- 2 teaspoons prepared horseradish..
- 1 tablespoon catsup
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- 6 hamburger buns, split and toasted

Combine ground beef, 1½ teaspoons salt and pepper. Shape into 12 thin patties by rolling between waxed paper with a rolling pin. Combine sour cream, horseradish, catsup, ¼ teaspoon salt and onion. Spoon approximately 1½ tablespoons sour cream mixture in center of 6 patties. Top with remaining 6 patties and seal edges. Set oven regulator for broiling. Place patties on rack in broiler pan so tops of patties are about 3 inches from heat. Broil 5 minutes. Turn and broil an additional 5 minutes. Serve in toasted hamburger buns.

AMONG THE SHOW NOTABLES AT FINOCCHIO'S in San Francisco, the past week, were: Bob Hope, Vivian Vance, comedienne co-star of Lucille Ball's, and Stefanie Powers, Hollywood movie starlet. Hope made his visit unforgettable by engaging in a very funny ad-libbing duel with Comic Lucian who, like Hope, is noted for his endless ad-libbing. Among those high in the know when it comes to show business, the stars—never miss Finocchio's when in the City by the Bay . . . Dave Rapken has inked Exotica, dancing star at his Moulin Rouge, for more of her wild, wonderful terpsichore . . . Last Wednesday, the Cal Insurance Assoc. held their yearly luncheon meeting at the San Francisco Belden Garden restaurant. General manger Clayton R. Hauge was in charge of the event. 21 insurance brokers from all over California attended the affair . . . The dinner wait is short at Bruno Scatena's Joe's of Westlake. Two dining rooms and a counter make the food production no problem . . . Don't be surprised if Ron Giannotti has expansion plans for his new Surf House. The way business has been going, an extra two stories wouldn't hurt the scene . . . Three Bees and a Honey continue to bring in the money at Tommy Morgan and Walt Raiter's The Mesa. Entertainment and dancing Friday and Saturday nights; no cover or minimum charge.

Bob Hope

PITY THE PLIGHT OF BARNEY O'MALIA, Lake Tahoe Barney's Casino who purchased a new wall-to-wall carpet with the idea in mind of having it layed during the first of the year when business would "lull off" a bit. However, business is not only on a par with last year at this time, it has tripled—and is still on the up-grade. With luck, the carpet should make it's debut this winter. Barney's is open 24-hours a day, with Greyhound Bus and drive in accommodations. Free coffee in the upper-level "O'Houlihan's Hideout" and plenty of parking space right next door to the casino. Radio dispatched bus service provides free transportation to and from your motel . . . Producer Monte Proser has returned to New York well satisfied with his "new look" version of "High Button Shoes" at the Las Vegas Thunderbird Hotel . . . The restaurant at the Crystal Bay Club, Lake Tahoe, features certain orders where food can be taken out, but instead of having a sign reading "Food To Go," the signs, "A La Car."

Teresa Brewer At Harrah's

Diminutive Teresa Brewer, five-foot tall and weighing just 90 pounds, is in the final week of her highly successful engagement in the South Shore Room at Harrah's Tahoe. She appears through Sunday, June 7. Opening June 8 is television star Andy Williams.

Nomination to the "Dapper Dan" club, or "What the well dressed man should wear," this week, goes to Enrico Romano, Pacifica's Italian food and pizza specialist.

Superior Home Improvement's veep, Joe Slavsky, was discussing topics of the day during a Brentwood Lodge luncheon and mentioned that he feels it would be just his luck that the added income from a tax cut would boost him into a higher bracket.

Gourmet Weekend

Another exciting "first" at the Sheraton-Villa Hotel in San Mateo. The latest innovation is the "Gourmet Holiday Weekend" which features lavish dinners in both a French and Polynesian restaurant, along with two days of luxury living in the swank Peninsula hostelry.

The vacation-near-home begins with check-in Friday afternoon into a beautifully appointed room amazingly-priced —$21 each, double occupancy. For dinner, dine in the elegant, new French Room. Dancing to the music of Bob Howard's Orchestra or in Bloody Mary's lounge with Billy Tavake's Polynesian Revue.

Enjoy breakfast in bed on Saturday, then dinner at the nearby Lanai restaurant featuring such delights as Mandarin Duck and Bell Pepper Chow Yuk.

Sunday, have a gin fizz; brunch by the pool, or in the French Room. Checkout is Sunday at 6 p.m. A lot of food and fun for $21 each.

Lew Lehr, the Marina steak man, goes to considerable trouble to give his customers all new coins in change. Every coin, from a penny to the new Kennedy half dollars to the bucks are polished before being given out at Lehr's.

Earl's 'H'ouse of fine foods" is open seven days a week serving prime rib, steaks, seafoods, and chicken under the luncheon and dinner banner. Adele Rich entertains at the organ bar Thursday, Friday and Saturdays.

Keith Williamson's New Menu Addition

Keith Williamson is now featuring an "out of this world" hamburger, along with all the other menu goodies, at his pop Burlingame Keith's Chicken and Steak House. Suggestion for housewives: Pick up one of Keith's homemade pies to take home. When your hubby asks if you made it, just beam your prettiest smile.

A & W Root Beer Burger Family

Scheduled to open today, A & W Root Beer, San Mateo's newest drive-in located at Twenty-seventh Avenue and El Camino, will feature rich, creamy A & W Root Beer, said to be the world's leading draft root beer, and the Burger Family, which offers an individual and varying size burger for Papa, Mama, and Baby.

Submarine sandwiches, Bar-B-Q Beef sandwiches, hot dogs and golden French fries will be among the other items on the menu.

In addition to A & W Root Beer, orange and grape drinks and thick milk shakes will be available.

Hurry! Hurry! You only have until June 6 to see the Donna Theodore show at the Caravan Inn. Donna and the Nob Hill Trio, comprise one of the best bookings general manager Betty Sedam has inked to date.

Now is the time to reserve one of the private dining rooms at the New Tivoli restaurant in San Francisco. They are in much demand for parties and business meetings.

Quote of the week from Nick Gust, Pacifica restaurant Midas "What this country now needs is still a good five-cent cigar—for women!"

The Hilton Inn at San Francisco International Airport is now featuring a new buffet luncheon in the French Corner dining room Monday through Friday priced at $1.95.

Holiday at Hillsdale Inn

Why not enjoy this holiday weekend at the Hillsdale Inn, where you will receive the best in food and lodging, plus Friday and Saturday night dinner-dancing to Mike Maffay and his Orchestra and the songs of Roger Clark, the strolling troubadour.

Mel Young Started June 2

Opened yesterday for one week only is popular Mel one week only is popular Mel Young, who is a one-man show in any league. Mel does a full hour of comic patter, vocals and pantomime musical renditions that are classics. His "Hey There", is a show stopper.

M. for the purchase of bonds of SAN MATEO JUNIOR COLLEGE DISTRICT of San Mateo County, State of California, more particularly described below:

ISSUE: $1,750,000.00, 1964 School Bonds, Series A, consisting of 1,750 bonds of the denomination of $1,000.00 each, numbered A-1 to A-1,750 inclusive. Said bonds are part of an authorized issue in the aggregate principal amount of $12,800,000.00. The remaining $11,050,000.00 principal amount of said authorized issue may be sold when and as determined by said Board of Supervisors, but it is anticipated will not be offered for sale prior to DECEMBER 1, 1964.

DATE: All of said bonds are dated JUNE 15, 1964.

INTEREST RATE: Maximum five (5) per cent per annum, payable annually for the first year on JUNE 15, 1965, and semi-annually thereafter on DECEMBER 15 and JUNE 15, in each year. Bidders must specify the rate of interest which the bonds hereby offered for sale shall bear. Bidders will be permitted to bid different rates of interest and to split rates irrespective of the maturities of said bonds, except that no bond may bear more than one rate of interest or more than one coupon to evidence any interest payment. The interest rate or rates stated in the bid must be in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of one per cent per annum, payable as aforesaid.

MATURITIES: Said bonds mature serially in consecutive numerical order from lower to higher (without option of prior redemption) as follows:

Principal Amount	Maturity Dates JUNE 15
$ 25,000.00	1965 to 1969, both inclusive;
$ 50,000.00	1970 to 1974, both inclusive;

PAYMENT: Both principal and interest payable in lawful money of the United States, at the office of the County Treasurer of said County or at the option of the holder at the paying agents of the District in the cities of Chicago, Illinois; New York City, New York; Los Angeles, California; and San Francisco, California.

So long as the bonds and coupons are outstanding, the District shall maintain paying agents in said cities.

EXECUTION AND REGISTRATION: Coupon bonds will be issued by said Board of Supervisors on behalf of said District. The bonds will be executed by the manual signature of at least one official authorized to execute the bonds. Said bonds are registrable only as to both principal and interest.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Said bonds were authorized by more than two-thirds of the voters voting at an election held in said District on MARCH 24, 1964, and will be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for authorized school purposes.

SECURITY: The bonds are general obligations of said District, and said Board of Supervisors has power and is obligated to levy ad valorem taxes for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon upon all property within said District, subject to taxation by said District (except certain intangible personal property, which is taxable at limited rates), without limitation of rate or amount.

TAX EXEMPT STATUS: In the event that prior to the delivery of the bonds the income received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be declared to be taxable under any Federal Income Tax laws, either by the terms of such laws or by ruling of a Federal Income Tax authority or official which is followed by the Internal Revenue Service or by the decision of any Federal Court, the successful bidder may at his option prior to the tender of said bonds by the Board of Supervisors, be relieved of his obligation under the contract to purchase the bonds and in such case the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned.

LEGAL OPINION: The purchaser will be required to furnish his own legal opinion as to the legality of said bonds.

A copy of the legal opinion, certified by the official in whose office the original is filed, will be printed on each bond without charge to the successful bidder.
